

MAUNU SCHOOL

NEWSLETTER Thursday 23 June 2022 www.maunu.school.nz

Greetings to you all; tena koutou katoa; salam kanggo kowe kabeh; silav li we hemûyan; salvete omnes vos

With the wet weather and the restriction on the ground usage, please make sure there is a change of clothes in your child's bag in case they end up wet and muddy. They will not be able to go into the classrooms if they are, so a change of clothes would be a good idea.

Thank you to those who came along and supported the PTA organised Disco on Friday night. We appreciate the efforts of the PTA in putting on these events for the children of Maunu School. With the large numbers of children now attending it is a bit of a logistical conundrum, resulting in the disco being split in two. A special thanks to the PTA people who set up, sizzled sausages and organised the night. And another huge thank you to DJ John Markby for his continued support, enthusiasm, humour and music skill. We would also like to thank Pak n Save for donating all the treats and sausages for the children, and Paul Sumich who brought along his coffee cart which kept the parents happy!

Blind Low Vision NZ Bookathon; One of our industrious students has been completing a self-guided Service Inquiry involving supporting Blind Low Vision. As part of her inquiry, Scarlett White-Hughes, has put information in the library for people to register for the Bookathon, with the aim of raising funds. This has been a voluntary registration that a number of students have accessed. As part of her campaign, Scarlett has worked with Lynne in the Library and they are selling cookies (in the shape of a dog) on Wednesday 29th June. These will be sold for a gold coin donation, with all funds going to Blind Low Vision. Please read the insert below for organisation and further information. Should you wish to look into the Bookathon, this is the website: <https://www.bookathon.co.nz/about> Matariki Week: This year we have celebrated Matariki with a week of activities. Thanks to the organisation and work of Cayne Wright and Whaea Claudine, the children have been involved in activities based around a story.

The activities have been varied and from across the curriculum. The week culminated in an assembly today where work was shared and the Maungatapere School kapa haka roopu joined us for performances. Thank you to Matua Shane and Maungatapere School for sharing your waiata with us and making our week a special and significant one.

A special thanks also to our senior syndicate students who put their hands up to lead and support the activities during the week. They showed their Five Feather values in every way.

Be Kind, Be Safe, Be Caring,
Nga mihi,
Paul Shepherd, Principal
